

Respected Authors,

Date: 13th Oct, 2023

The Madan Bhandari Foundation is delighted to announce the publication of the Journal of State, Society, and Development: PMPD Perspectives. The first volume of the journal is now available at Foundation's website as well as Nepjol portal. <https://mbf.org.np/en/https://www.nepjol.info/index.php/ssd/article/view/58470>.

This publication marks the initiation of an annual publication. As we embark on this journey, we cordially invite authors to submit their articles for the forthcoming volume scheduled to be released on June 2024. We highly appreciate your sincere engagements and look forward to collaborating with you on this academic and research publication mission. Together, we can help substantiate principles of People's Multiparty Democracy with highlights of the relevance in nation building process and social transformation.

We have included a declaration letter and a set of author guidelines for your reference. These guidelines can be useful to you in effectively crafting your article. We would, therefore, request you to submit your full-fledge research article both in word and pdf file before 12 February 2024 (29 Magh 2080).

We would, therefore, like to invite research articles on issues that revolve on or around the perspectives of People's Multiple Democracy (PMPD).
